French-Argentine actor with a truly international outlook, fluent in multiple languages and at home in multicultural settings. I bring bold, physical energy to exuberant stage roles and relish the challenge of dramatic work. With 20+ years as a competitive swimmer and a new passion for climbing, I bring strong physicality and focus to every performance. A Master's in Physics and four years as a software developer give me a curious, analytical edge that deepens my approach to character and story.
